Burgundy Atlas - The Climats and Lieux-Dits of the Great Vineyards of Burgundy : Atlas and History of Site Names of Burgundy Vineyards by Marie-Hélène Landrieu-Lussigny & Sylvain Pitiot. Text is in English. A 2000-year History of the Greatest Vineyards of Burgundy, a patchwork of numerous parcels named Climats and Lieux-dits have given this famous area its originality! A 200-year History of hard working men who have taken advantage of the incredible diversity of geographic situations and climatic conditions to create an exceptional mosaic of top ranked Crus that are famous all around the world! It is the first time that this story is told exhaustively by displaying the detailed maps of the 35 viticultural villages and giving comprehensive explanations about the origin and meaning of the 1463 climats and lieux-dits names! As Bernard Pivot nicely says: "In Burgundy, when you walk about the 'climat' you don't look up at the sky but you look down to the soil"

Présentation de l'éditeur

Meursault, Clos de Vougeot, Chevalier-Montrachet, Le Corton, Vosne-Romanée, Les Perrières, Les Amoureuses, Etournelles,... All these prestigious Crus names that can be seen on Burgundy wine labels have such a mysterious and charming appeal that those who discover them wish to know more about their secrets. These Crus, mostly villages, Climats and lieux-dits were given their names a long time ago. Discovering their origin and meaning enables us to get a better understanding of the history and way of life of the growers who have lived in Burgundy for two millenniums, thus contributing by their work and understanding of the place to improve this land and make it an exceptional vineyard. This book is divided into two distinct but complementary parts : In the first part, you will find the detailed maps of all the Climats and lieux-dits covering the 35 wine growing communes of the Great Burgundy Vineyards : the Côte de Beaune and the Côte de Nuits. These maps are completed by the list of all the Climats and lieux-dits classified by appellations : Communales (or Villages), Premier Crus and Grand Crus, with the surface area of each parcel, the colour of the wine produced and the name of the Grand Crus growers. In the second part, you will discover a unique approach of the origin and meaning of each of the 1,463 Climats and lieux-dits names that are explained in a clear and lively style. The parcelling out of the Burgundian vineyard in so many parcels is one of its original features. Each parcel has its own characteristics, identity, history and name that make it different from the others. Describing this diversity is the purpose of this book. As Bernard Pivot nicely says : 'In Burgundy, when you talk about the 'Climat', you don't look up at the sky but you look down to the soil'.
